Allen, D. 2003. All for one and one for all. Financial Management July/August: 12.

Arlington House.
Friedman, M. 1962. Capitalism and Freedom. Chicago: University of Chicago Press and Phoenix Books.
1970. The social responsibility of business is to increase its profits. New York Times
September 13: 33.
Friedman, M. T. and Mason, D. 2004. A stakeholder approach to analyzing economic development decision making: Public subsidies for professional sport facilities. Economic of Urban Affairs 27 (1): 93–118.
Friedman, S. D. and Olk, P. 1995. Four ways to choose a CEO: Crown heir, horse race, coup 191–205.
Frost, F. A. and Mensik, S. 1991. Balancing minerals development and environmental protec-Gelis, A. 2003. The reaction of stakeholders to the role of the Brazilian Federal Agency for Ghonkrota, S. S. and Lather, A. S. 2007. Identification of role of social audit by stakeholders as Ghoshal, S. 2005. Bad management theories are destroying good management practices.

Rostow, Eugene V. 1959. To whom and for what ends are corporate managements responsible?

